hand. Traffic on the great railway system is paralyzed so far as the Pacific coast is concerned. No trains are running north or south, and from Ogden, Deming and El Paso not a wheel is turning. Even the company's suburban trains out of San Franciso and Calland are at a stand-still. The ferry boats are ranning, but at Oakland and Alameda moles their is not a connecting train to bear suburban residents to their homes.

Many thousands of people who do business in San Francisco and live on the opposite side of the bay are put to the greatest inconvenience. Little effort has been made to move freight.

Evidence that the company expects a protracted struggle was given this afterneon, when from the general offices of the Southern Pacific an order was issued closing all freight offices and informing the clerks of that department that their ay would cease until further notice. The freight blockade is most disastrous to the business interests of California. Heavy losses to fruit growing interests are inevitable, and many fruit growers and frait dealers are face to face with bankruptey.

The nearest approach to violence occurred at Sacramento this morning, when The nearest approach to violence oc-curred at Sacramento this morning, whon strikers threw open a drawbridge across the Sommento and refused to allow the over-land passenger train westbound to pass. Though probably a hundred deputy sheriffs and United States marshals have been sworn in here and at Oakland, the company has made no special effort to police its yards and tracks. The eastbound overland passenger train from Oakland last night parsenger train from Cakland last night was under the protection of United States Marshal Long and a strong posse. This morning the train was sidetracked at Rocklin, beyond Sacramento, and the marshal's posse has so far been unable to get back to the city.

A. R. U. Men at Omaha Refuse to Go Out at Present.

OMAHA, June 29 .- President Debs, of the American Railway union, wired Secretary Noble, of the local union, to strike at noon. Noble conferred with President Miller, of the local unles, and others connected with the organization, on the proposition. An answer was returned to the effect that the local situation is such that, in the wisdom of the local union, it is deemed highly impracticable to precipitate a strike here, and the argument was made that positively no hope existed for the successful carrying out of the boycott, as the local union consisted entirely of men not in the train

An Omaha railroad man explains that the Northwestern boycott arises from the fact that a crew ran a car with the A. R. U. grievance committee out to the shops, and the company let out the crew when it

The Chicago roads have agents in Omaha The Chicago roads have agents in Omaha hustling up men to take the places of A. R. U. men in Chicago. They are meeting but poor encouragement. So far as known not a single man has gone. There are a number of railway men in Omaha who are out of work, and they have been asked if they would go to Chicago and take the places of strikers. The answer has been an emphatic "No," While the men in Omaha are anxions to go to work they declare they will starve before they will take the places of men who are out for a principle.

The Pacific Division Is Now Fally Tted Up.

TACOMA, June 29. - The Pacific division of the Northern Pacific is now fully tied up. This morning, after initiating 200 men, the American Railway union took another vote on the subject of striking, and decided to strike by a very small majority. The engineers and conductors belonging to the order still hold out, and so far all the engineers, conductors, and most of the switchmen have been ready to carry out trains, and but for the lack of firemen all trains would have gone out; 275 employes at the Tacoma car shops, twenty-one freight clerks, and twenty-two truckmen struck to-day. No freight is moving.

Her Funeral Fund.

"What do you do when you need som money dreadfully and haven't any?" asked one girl bachelor of another who carried herself with an opulent air and who was FREE. famous for discovering cash in times of financial distress.

"Well," replied the other bachelor, "I'll tell you if you won't tell anybody. I bor row it from my funeral expenses."

"Funeral expenses!" exclaimed the horrified querist. "What do you mean!"

"Just this: When I first began earning money, I put in bank several bundred dollars for my funeral expenses. I have always had a horror of people being able to say of me, 'Poor thing, her uncle had to bury her,' or 'the church had to pay for her funeral.' Well, when I'm feeling pretty robust and want something very much without having the requisite cash—a trip, a new gown—I borrow the sum needed from the funeral expenses and pay it back when I am in funds again. I argue that good clothes, recreation and intellectual pleasures help me postpene my funeral, so it is really a wise investment. Do start a funeral fund. You don't know how convenient it is."-De-

Points About the Veil.

In buying a veil the other day the salesgirl gave a bit of information so very use ful that I feel it is my duty to impart it. I was going to put it on without any preliminary arrangement, but the girl very kindly offered to assist me. She took the veil, stretched it out at full length and tied a knot in each end and then one in the center of one side to fit over the hat brim. The knots in the end keep the veil in place and so make the veil last longer and look better. Besides it is very much easier to arrange aveil. It is strange how many well iressed women are careless of their veils. It is not an unusual sight to see the edge frayed or little breaks or tears. Some times you see it has given away on the very end of the nose. Now, it looks just as badoh, yes, much worse than it would to see an unsightly scar on the face. The scar cannot be helped, but for careless slovenliness there is not a shred of an excuse.—Bos-
